

The Chartere of the moſte aynciente and bleſſed lande of Freektopia, wherein are fet downe thee acceptance of our moſt noble and juſte lawef and traditionef for any fuch perſon who requiref the all-encompaffing protection of the quadruple Deſpotf, long may they flumber on a ſaturday morning. Tranſlated from thee original toaſtedcheſe by the monkef of thee ſhrine of St Andgreavſie, Sunday, 18th October 1523, 4.27pm – juſt before the Dukef of Hazzard

Citizens of Freektopia! Rejoice in the freedom granted to you by the Quadruple Despots to live in your own land for the relatively small price of complete subjugation by four idiots who should know better and have absolutely no regard for your wellbeing whatsoever! Long live the Despots!

The Despots have laid down the rules of citizenship in accordance with their own entirely selfish desires and needs and safe in the knowledge that they can do what they like and there's nothing you can do about it. This explains the bizarre nature of the conditions of citizenship. Well, this and the fact that they had just had a party to get rid of Alfie Noakes supply of Home Brew before it started to grow that fungus which makes you hallucinate, except that the party had to be delayed by a month so it's entirely possible that they were too late. The rules are hereby laid out.

1. Citizenship is granted to you on condition of acceptance of the Quadruple Despotate. Their rule in Freektopia can not be disputed and will not be questioned.
2. The Despots reserve the right to refuse or recall citizenship to or from anyone they don't like the look, sight, smell or sound of. This is beyond dispute.
3. The consumption of Bachelors super noodles is compulsory, at least three times every week. This law will be enforced and is beyond dispute.
4. If accepted as a citizen, you will be required to renounce your name while in the company of other Freektopians. You will be allocated an acceptable Freektopian name which you will thenceforth be referred to as. Again, this is beyond dispute. All names are final and can only be changed by applying to the Despots. I wouldn't advise it...
5. Military service is compulsory. Should the Totalitarian Despotate of Freektopia find itself in a state of war with any other nation, every citizen will be expected to rally to the flag and do their duty. The Despots reserve the right to stay as far away from the fighting as possible and to use their citizens as cannon fodder. This is beyond dispute.
6. All laws and rules are subject to change by the Despots, sometimes three or four times a day depending on the whims and fancies of the Despotate – this too is beyond dispute.
7. Any disputes with the Despots will be ignored, this too is beyond dispute.
8. Anyone caught disputing these laws will be required to present themselves before the Despots for sentencing on the second Tuesday of every month at 2.27pm.
9. Executions will take place on the second Tuesday of every month at 2.30pm.
10. No dogs.
11. Not even blind ones...